The Race

By Adam Fable

A rabbit laughed at a turtle for walking so slow. "Do you ever get anywhere?" said the rabbit. "Yes," said the turtle, "let's race." The rabbit laughed at the turtle but agreed to race him. The rabbit ran fast and soon he could not see the turtle anymore. The rabbit took a nap to give the turtle time to catch up. As the rabbit slept the turtle passed him. When the rabbit saw the turtle close to the finish line he jumped up and ran as fast as he could. However, the turtle won the race. The rabbit was sad and walked home.
